Mr Rainbird – Agent - supporting

Firstly, I would like to thank you all for working so proactively to deliver tonight's meeting and ensure a decision can be made on our proposals for Ashford International Studios at New Town Works in these unprecedented and exceptional circumstances.

With your support tonight we can collectively start to re-build and create the industry, jobs and momentum that can deliver an exciting new era for Ashford, building on the investment in the town already made.

Nationally and globally we are now reporting the highest viewing numbers on record. So, whilst production is on a small hiatus, this is only going to serve greater demand. The timing of this decision is therefore fundamental to ensuring that Ashford International Studios can be delivered at New Town Works.

The memory of Newtown Works as a thriving hub of industry has long since faded, with the listed buildings and site lying dormant for years, left behind as the town has changed. The proposal before you now provides a once in a generation opportunity to deliver a world class mixed use development that will put Ashford on the international map as a location for digital media and provide a long term, sustainable and viable use for the site and its historic buildings.

By combining the very best facilities for the creative sector, with the wider supporting facilities, such as the hotel, serviced apartments, conference facilities, and education and incubator space offerings we are working to deliver with the Kent Universities and East Kent College, we will ensure that the whole borough will benefit both in profile and financially with over £100m a year supporting your economy.

This is a hugely competitive global industry in which the UK is a leader. The mix of uses has been designed specifically to enable the TV & Film sector to buy into Newtown Works and Ashford as a destination. The result is over 2,000 valuable new jobs and a construction phase and supply chain that will provide many more at a time when they will be most needed.

Key to this proposal is the emphasis on delivery. The combination of the South-East's most proactive and experienced mixed-use developer Quinn Estates, with The Creative District Improvement Company's energy and renowned expertise in the TV & film sector, makes this a highly deliverable, high value job creator of real benefit to local people, the borough and the wider county.

Today we have a number of private equity and institutionally backed funds, poised to invest, once they can be certain of delivery will planning will undoubtedly provide. It is entirely reasonable to expect that the worlds property and media press will have all eyes on Ashford with this news.

Approving this application will mean that tomorrow, when I pick up the phone to Eion Egan, Director, Studio & Production Operations for Netflix and John Eddey, Dir, Worldwide Production Real Estate for Amazon, both among those who are vying for our production space I can say that the Ashford International Studios has been given a green light with overwhelming support and excitement and that the studios will be open for business in 2022.

Again, I thank you for ensuring this application is determined at this difficult time and hope that you can support your officers recommendation.

APPENDIX BMs Mullan – Chair South Willesborough & Newtown Community Council - objecting

SWAN Community Council sees economic, educational and public realm benefits in this development but considers that negative impacts on our residents outweigh them. Consequently, it objects to this application.

First, Highways Issues. A recent survey of all homes in the SWAN area revealed that although parking is greatest concern to residents, traffic volumes and safety are also prominent. We believe the Committee should acknowledge this is a complex, inter-linked issue, avoid focusing on short term parking interventions and, instead, examine the validity of our residents' concerns.

If you approve this development with its meagre 1 parking space plus 20% per apartment, you will exacerbate an existing parking problem in adjacent roads which commuters, visitors and tradespeople already use for free parking.

We note that £15000 developer contribution is suggested to assist with parking data collection, which we welcome, but strongly urge the Committee to listen to our residents, defer this application until the Community Council can share this new data with ABC and KCC and if necessary, seek a higher level of funding for an holistic traffic regulation review that will address all aspects of the perceived traffic challenge – not just parking

Second - the hotel. We agree with the Culture and Environment report that at 18 storeys, it is too high, out of keeping and will be visually intrusive to many of our residents. We would also urge you to seek evidence that hospitality demand exists in Ashford town centre for a building of that scale in addition to the two hotels already approved and the increase in private lets.

Third - Affordable accommodation. We understand the HOU1 policy. However, we believe that ABC should act responsibly and provide an affordable component to give Ashford's young people an opportunity to live where job opportunities are greatest. We have suggested that the Council's Development Company purchases several apartments to provide that affordable component, but the suggestion was met with silence.

Fourthly, the Crowbridge Road bridge improvements should be undertaken before work is commenced. It is a vital entry point but also potential accident black-spot given the increased number of HGV's expected.

Fifth -Placemaking. We agree with the Culture and Environment report that funding for a creative project is required to help conserve the spirit of Newtown and mitigate the impact of gentrification and that the space allocated for Community facilities, although welcome will not satisfy the growing community's recreational/social needs.

APPENDIX CMr Hollaway – Agent - supporting

This is a unique opportunity for Ashford to breathe new life into these 5 redundant listed buildings and regenerate the remainder of the former Newtown Works site. The locomotive sheds are the longest listed railway sheds in the country and have been vacant since the 1980's. The structures have fallen into a state of significant disrepair, in dire need of a long-term use to provide a future. Our proposal is to bring these heritage assets back into viable use and create a new creative community for the town.

This scheme has only been made possible through working closely with Historic England and your conservation and planning officers. The key decision was to allow the existing roofs to be removed, whilst preserving the most important historic fabric. This has enabled the new architecture to grow out of the old, providing for a new industrial architecture to compliment the linear listed buildings.

We have proposed a new central landscaped street through the centre of the sheds that will bring together the proposed 302 residential units, workspaces for the creative industries and the proposed educational spaces for the next generation of film makers. Bridges and walkways span this street, connecting the apartments to the designated parking and cycle spaces with the capability for EV charging points within the listed building. We have worked closely with expert structural engineers throughout to ensure our designs will work with the listed buildings, allowing for their long-term protection and preservation.

The residential units have been designed as loft apartments and double height maisonette units to suit the character of the industrial architecture, each unit has a south facing aspect either looking onto the central street or towards the film studios across the new public realm to be created. We are proposing a cafe within the railway shed which shares the public landscaped space, where we will display historic images as a celebration of the former railway works, whilst an arts and heritage strategy will be developed with local people to ensure the living history of the site as well as the built fabric and its former use is embedded within the public realm and landscape.

The architecture has been carefully crafted to merge the heritage with the new, we have taken inspiration for the existing brick facades to create a new hotel and serviced apartment landmark building at the entrance to the site, acting as a way finder when viewed from the international station and supporting the film studio use. The building is designed to have deep brick reveals and a strong architecture language to enable the old and new to sit comfortably together. Throughout the application we have worked closely with officers and Historic England to ensure the revisions to the scheme have addressed their concerns and delivered an exceptional project that we are really proud of and to which crucially Historic England do not object and see the value and importance of in preserving these buildings and providing them with a viable future.

This is a once in a generation opportunity to regenerate this former industrial site into a new creative industry of our time. We therefore very much hope you'll support your officers recommendation to approve this application.
